

L3 Health & Social Care

Empowering future professionals with the skills to care, support, and make a real difference.

Why choose this subject?

This Level 3 Advanced Academic Qualification (AAQ) course is ideal if you're passionate about helping others and want to make a real difference. You'll gain practical skills and knowledge about health, wellbeing, and care services.

What will I study?

You will study a mix of compulsory and specialist units. Core topics include communication in care settings, equality and diversity, and health, safety and security. You'll also explore public health and complete a focused unit on pregnancy and the responsibilities of parenthood. These units combine practical knowledge with real-world application.

Where can this subject take me?

Health & Social Care opens doors to careers in nursing, midwifery, social work, paramedic science, counselling, and early years education. It's a strong foundation for university, apprenticeships, or direct employment in the health, care, and wellbeing sectors.
